NEW EDUCATIONAL APPROACH TO STEAM JOBS.

How to Install

Step 1:

Download Android File Transfer from:
<https://www.android.com/filetransfer/>
and install it on your computer.

The screenshot shows the Android File Transfer website. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Android logo and links for 'What is Android', 'Android 13', 'Phones', 'Tablets', and 'Enterprise'. The main content area features a large graphic of a laptop and a smartphone connected by a double-headed arrow, with the text 'Android File Transfer' and 'Browse and transfer files between your Mac computer and your Android device.' Below this is a prominent 'DOWNLOAD NOW' button. Underneath the button, it states 'Supports macOS 10.7 and higher.' A small note says 'By downloading, you agree to our Terms of Service and Privacy Policy.' The 'How to use it' section lists six steps: 1. Download the app. 2. Open AndroidFileTransfer.dmg. 3. Drag Android File Transfer to Applications. 4. Use the USB cable that came with your Android device and connect it to your Mac. 5. Double click Android File Transfer. 6. Browse the files and folders on your Android device and copy files. At the bottom of the page, there is a 'GET MORE HELP' link and a cookie notice: 'Android.com uses cookies from Google to deliver and enhance the quality of its services and to analyze traffic. Learn more.' A dark button with the text 'OK, got it' is located in the bottom right corner of the page.

How to Mirror Display

First, make sure the PICO headset and your computer is connected to the same network.

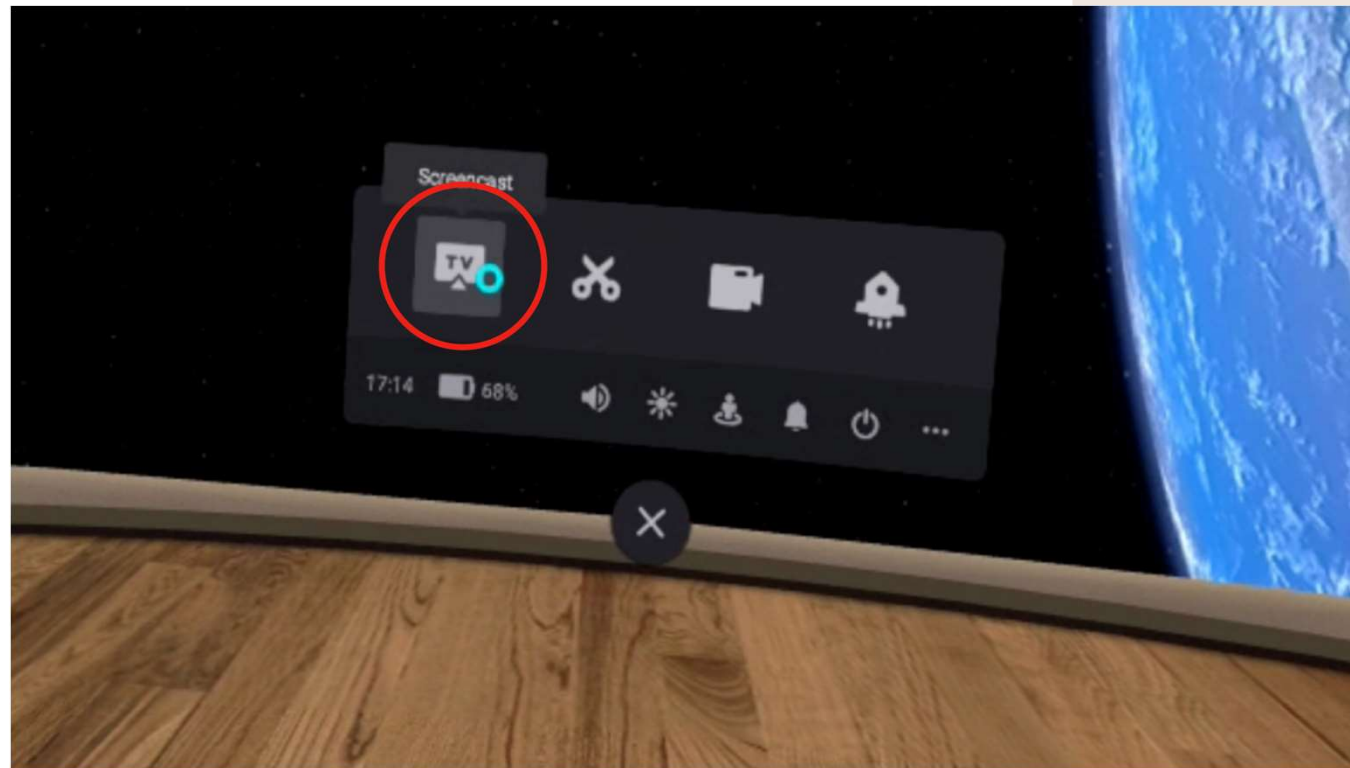

Then use the bottom button on the right side of the headset to open the following menu.

From that menu, choose the screencast option. In the next screen, choose the “Cast to Browser” option.

The final screen will then display a web address that should look similar to

<http://192.168.1.128:44411/cast>

Make a note of this URL for the next step.
